

134

H1 a 6/8
 b
 M a b H2
 H3

Both H1 and M a are rather faint, which hardly helps in solving the awkward problem of the missing time units in each: to assume a mistake twice in the same area is undesirable, but no better solution is immediately apparent. Equally effective as an emendation would be to assume the value 3 instead of 2 for the second note in 1, but the original clearly differentiates these, so that an oversight is hard to accept.

H3 8: 1: the original has d.